

Ninety thousand people are coming. Be the name they find.

The film festival's first Boulder edition brings an estimated 90,000 visitors to a town with 2,900 hotel rooms. Boulder Film Collective is the independent guide they will use to find where to stay, how to get around, and who to trust. We are not the city, not the Chamber, and not the festival. We are the insider's answer, and we are choosing our partners now.

WHY THIS WORKS

The audience nobody else is building

Every visitor to our guide joins a permissioned list and receives our Festival Season Dispatch until the festival begins. Partners are not buying a pageview. They are placed in front of a named, growing audience of confirmed festival travelers, week after week, through January.

THE EXCLUSIVITY THE CHAMBER CANNOT SELL

Own your category

A chamber of commerce must list every member equally. Your five competitors sit in the same directory row you do. We work differently. Spotlight placements name one partner per category: one transportation company, one caterer, one cleaning service. When a festival traveler asks, there is one answer, and it is you.

"The official channels will give visitors rules and directories. We give them answers. Our partners are the answers."

WHAT EVERY PARTNER RECEIVES

- Placement in the guide your category page, written as a recommendation, not an ad
- Festival Season Dispatch featured mentions in our subscriber newsletter
- Concierge referrals visitor requests in your category route directly to you
- Festival week presence visibility on the Last-Minute Board, where travelers turn when everything looks sold out
